From the published report «The problem of interrelation between a picture and a word in the teenagers' competition works» written by Dr. phil., professor, the leading research worker of The Federal State Budgetary Scientific Institution «Institute of Art Education and Cultural Studies of the Russian Academy of Education» Leyla Pechko

«Age peculiarities of perception and artistic activities, individual achievements and weaknesses of the adolescent aesthetic consciousness of boys and girls are rather common. But the most "dangerous" feature is the lack of understanding and association with arts in general and literature in particular. This refers not only to personal ignorance of art, but the weakness of the manifestation of cultural orientation. There is constant impression of incompleteness pedagogical leadership of the young artists and their development»
